The long, low, brick buildings
look peaceful from a distance.
Small trees swaying in the wind give away the youth of the campus.
But these buildings have an air of movement, activity.
Many walkways and roads lead to the college to carry the fast moving and fast growing community inside.

Entering the building,
a long wing of crowded classrooms is seen.
Along the main corridors
students can be found studying, moving to their next class, or catching up on the latest news.
Others may escape from the crowds and commotion
in the green, fresh world of the court, encircled by the brick and glass walls of the college.

Inside those brick walls
 Delta College throbs with activity.
 Each individual is searching for peace within themselves and the world.
 They reach for their goals
 by exchanging ideas and learning about one another.
 They read and study what those before them have learned about peace, goals . . . about life.

Delta College, aiming to fill each particular student's academic needs, offers an ever expanding horizon of study. Questioning minds are always encouraged and every attempt is made to help the students find the answers to the deepest questions of their minds. Innovation is Delta's key and it has unlocked the door of knowledge for many who may have missed the learning experience of their lives.

Delta's students are here because they want to prove to themselves and the world that they can contribute something and be useful. There is a way for everyone to get away from it all; to share his interests with others and become involved.

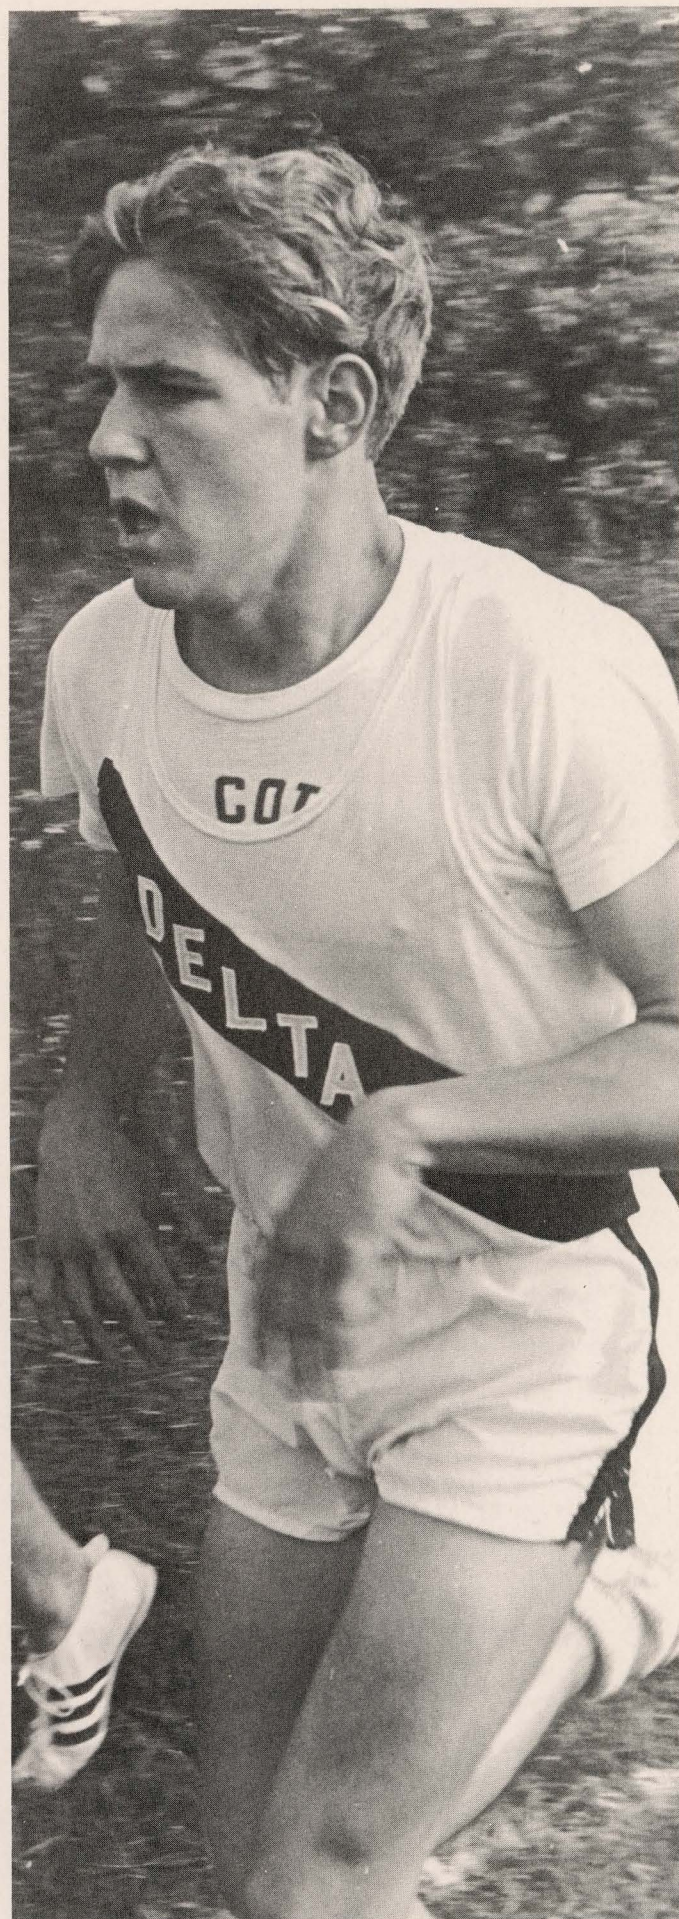

Athletics makes the body keen and sharp, ready to spring. Victory gives the most triumphant feeling an athlete ever experiences. Defeat brings feelings of disgust and bitter failure.

People are the heart and soul of every college.
Without teachers and students there would be no search for knowledge.
There would not be a need for a place like Delta College.
People are the identity of a college.

And so begins the story of Delta College, the people, the events, as told by the 1969 Gnosis.

College Council President Terry L. Rock

College Council

College Council is the student body's voice. Each club and organization is represented. The Council is responsible for recognizing of these clubs and also funding of the student activities budget. College Council's weekly meetings were open to all students. Led by President Terry Rock and Vice-President Brent Steele, College Council successfully led a campaign that brought about the repair of Delta Road.

Discussion is hot and lively at Council meetings. Members talk about all issues before the vote. Each representative is allowed one vote.

College Council Secretary Lolli Buseth reads the minutes of the last meeting to College Council representatives. Each club is represented on the Council.

Representatives often feel an explanation is needed before bringing a topic to a vote. Varied views and opinions bring about lively debates at the weekly meeting.

Publications Adviser Mrs. Pauline Drumm and Gnosis Editor Kristine Meyer check pages for the last time before shipping them to American Yearbook Company.

Managing Editor Mike McCauley handled photography and all financial matters for the yearbook.

Gnosis

The 1969 Gnosis was, at 188 pages, the largest yearbook in recent years. It also included for the first time a two page spread of natural color. Published by the American Yearbook Company, the Gnosis tried to present a true picture of what Delta College is really like.

Staff members volunteered their time as is done by the staffs of the Collegiate and Dialogue.

Randy LaFond, who worked on the sports, checks over team pictures and looks for layout ideas.

Bill Hewitt, yearbook photographer, works in Delta's new darkroom. A photographer must spend many hours in the darkroom to print the pictures for a 188 page book.

Darryl Szczepanski, Athletics editor, spent hours searching for team records, pictures and drawing layouts to emphasize the liveliness a sports section should show.

Gamma Alpha Nu

Gamma Alpha Nu is a new club organized at Delta this year. It is in the process of organization and formation of membership.

Veterans Club

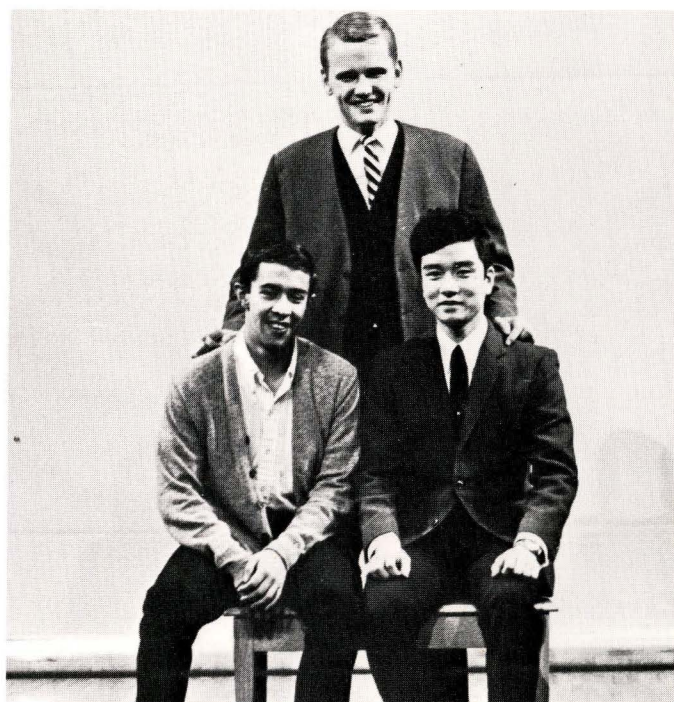

The Vets club was organized to give veterans a chance to get together with men of similar interests, background and experience.

The international Club, led by President Judy Little, worked to promote better understanding of other countries through lectures by qualified speakers and slides or movies. The group also works to sponsor a trip abroad by students.

International Club

The International Club held its meetings weekly. Various speakers and movies were part of the club's weekly meetings.

Exchange students from other nations are most welcome members of the International Club. They are often called upon for information about their native lands.

The Communication Board is the broadcasting system at Delta. A radio station—WRD—was formed by the board. It is a closed circuit station and is found at 700 on your radio dial.

The organizers or Founding Fathers of the Communications Board are Fred Wenzel, Bill Courbier, Bill Banks, Mike Simons, and Dick Smith.

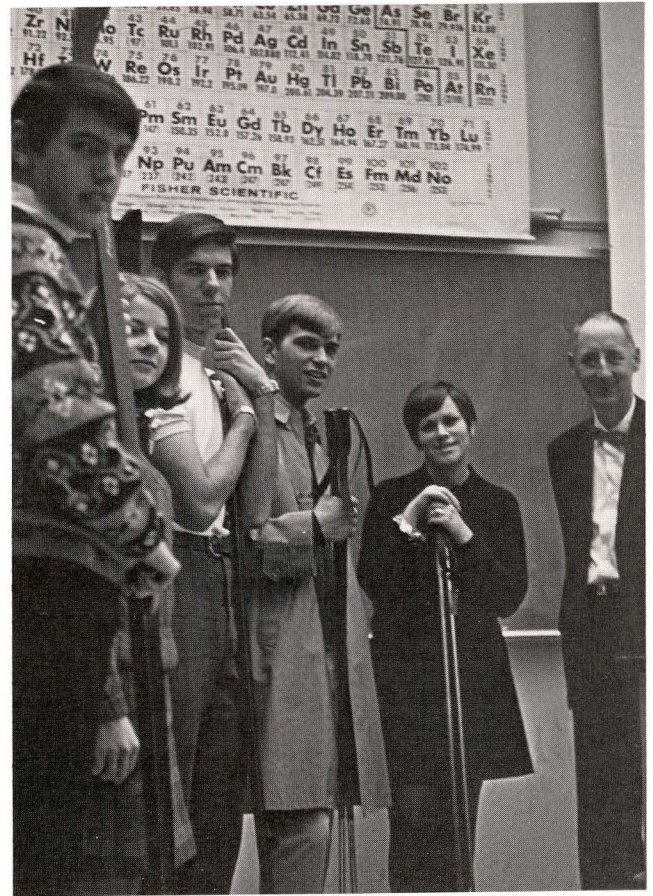

Last minute details are checked before broadcasting.

Ski Club

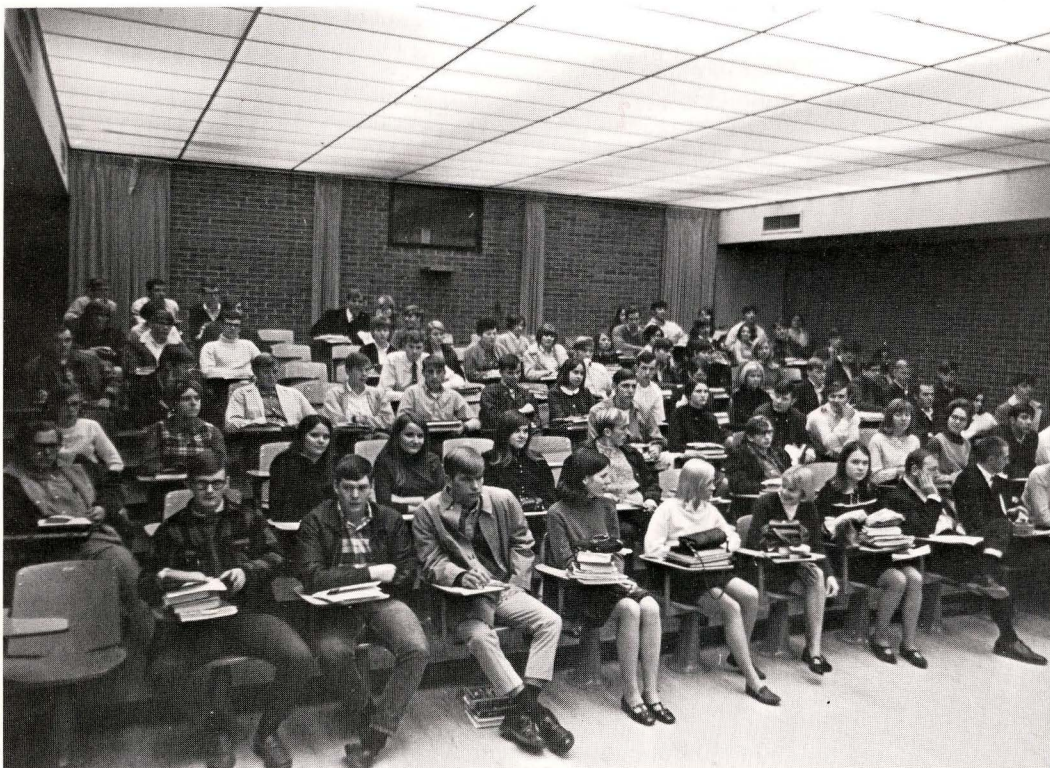

Ski Club brought together the followers of one of winter's most fun and skillful sports. The Ski Club offered trips to various ski resorts to its members. Buses were chartered and the group headed for the slopes.

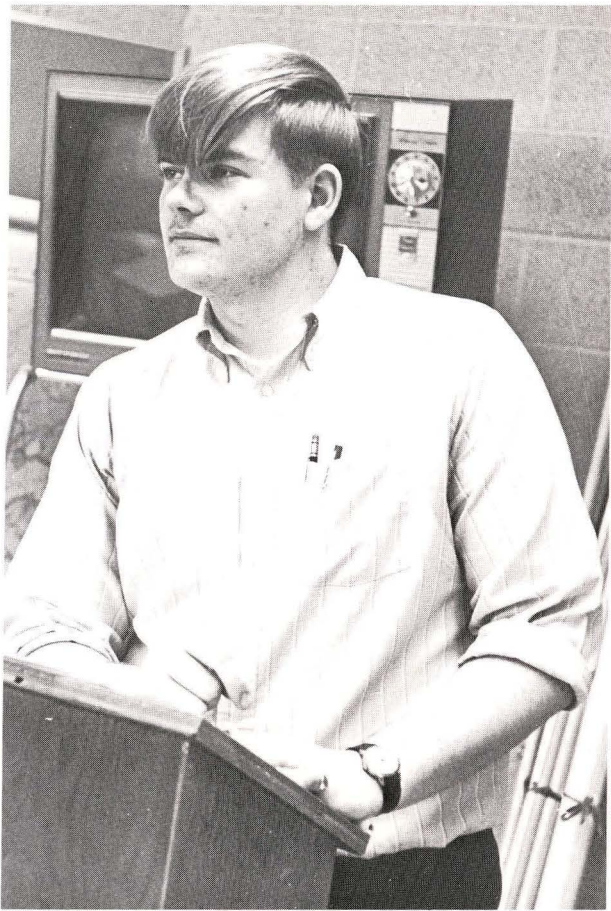

Ski Club was effectively represented at Club Expo.

Proper equipment that is kept in good condition is important to insure a safe day on the slopes for the skier know matter how skillful he is.

The membership in the Ski Club proves that skiing is one of the fastest growing sports these days. Everyone is learning to ski.

The president of Phi Theta Kappa brings the meeting to order.

Phi Theta Kappa

Being Delta's honorary society is a great responsibility. Phi Theta Kappa's membership must maintain a high scholastic rating at all times. Students are invited to become members only after meeting these standards. The new members are inducted into the club in a solemn ceremony which typifies the seriousness of maintaining academic interests at all times.

Phi Theta Kappa is Delta's honorary society. Membership is granted by invitation.

Lambda Nu

Rush Week starts the Greek activities for the year. The active members then put the pledges through the same struggling adventures that they had encountered. Following this are a number of parties and dances given by the fraternity. Finally the pledges are initiated into the fraternity.

Delta's Dorms

Delta College offered dormitory residence to the students for the first time this year. Two brand new dormitories were opened for the fall semester. The modern, brick structures housed 80 students each, two in a room, with a spacious lounge and recreation room provided for residents.

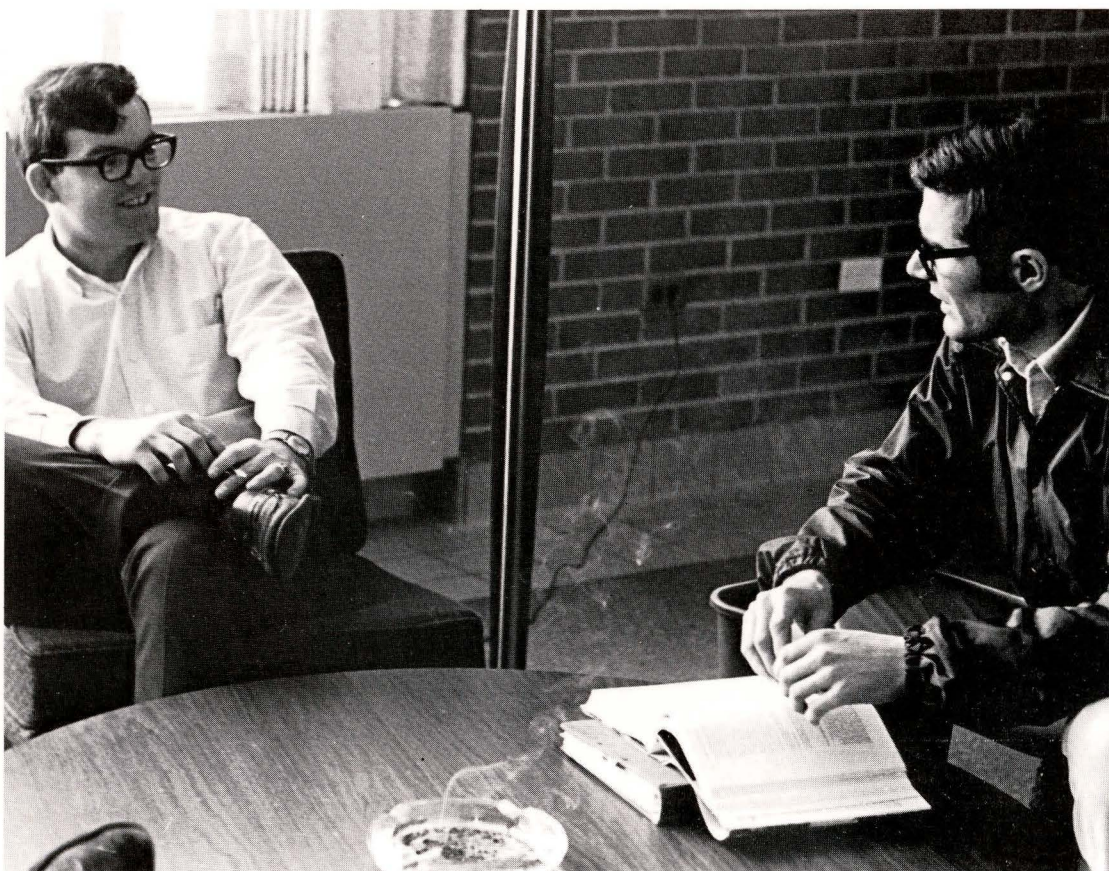

Every dorm resident is anxious for the arrival of the mail every day. It's nice to hear from home.

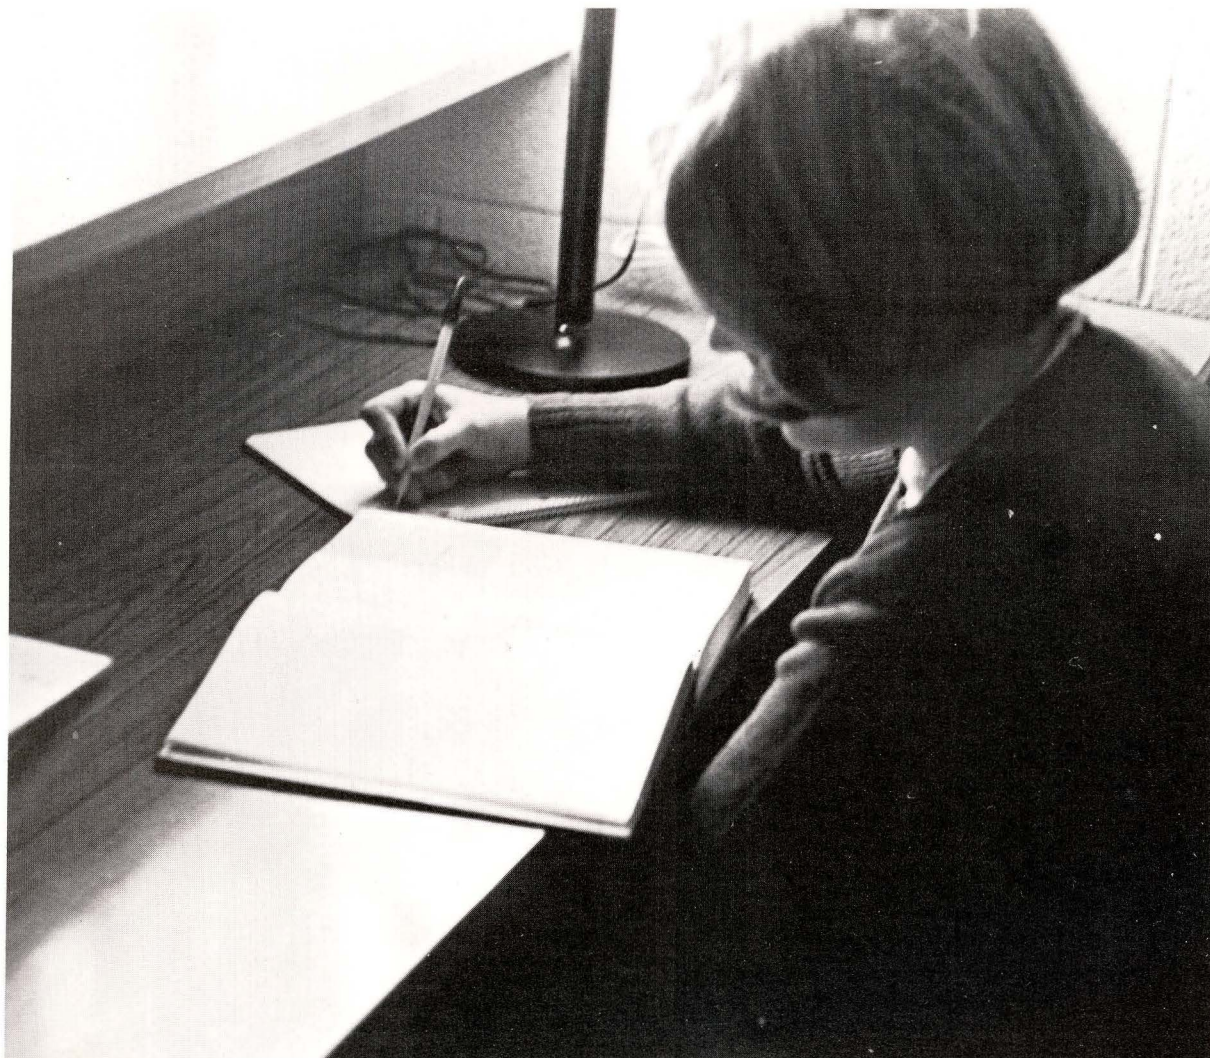

Getting together for a good old-fashioned girl talk session is one of the advantages of living in one of Delta's dorms with 79 other girls.

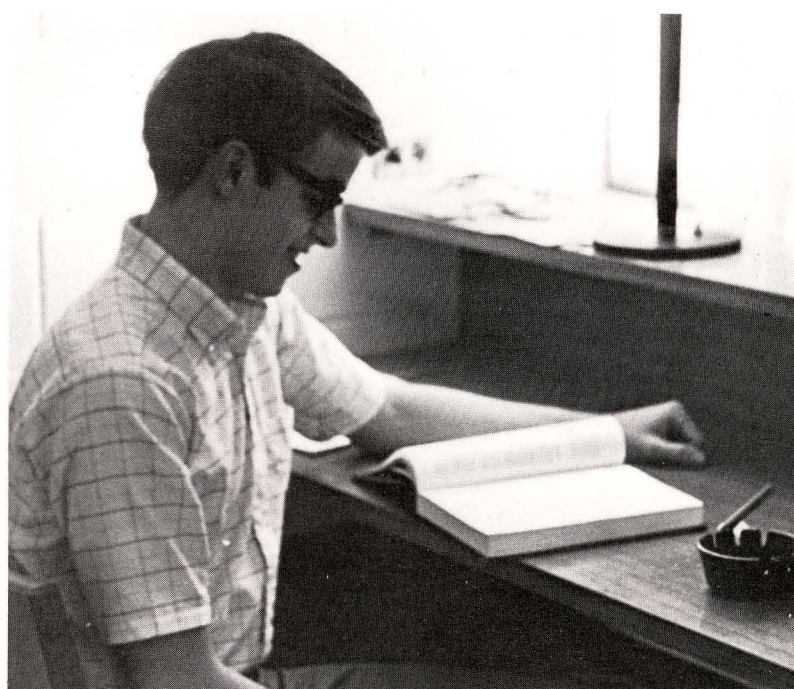

Delta's Dorms are equipped with comfortable lounges where the students may study or receive guests.

Men have to talk things over just like the girls do. In fact, they might even be discussing the feminine gender. Who knows?

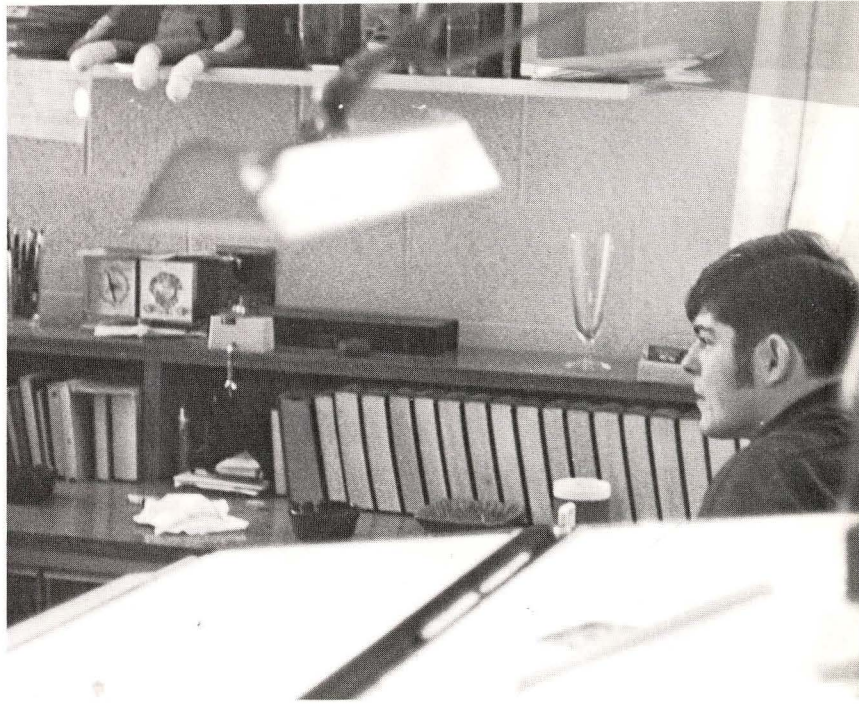

Peace and quiet make the best study atmosphere. Dorm residents can find such conditions in their rooms.

The dorm rooms are equipped with spacious desks and a good desk light for the best possible study conditions. Large bookcases hold the numerous books of the students and keep them neatly out of the way.

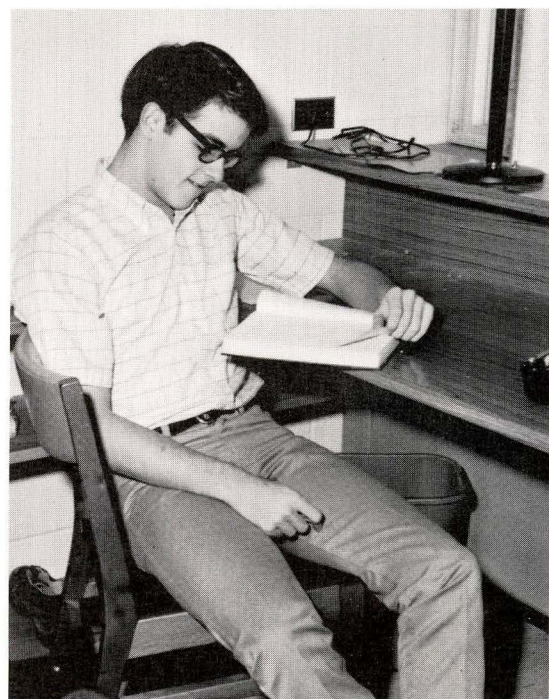

The lounge is a good place to curl up with an interesting book.

Dorm rooms seem to lend themselves to the imagination of creative residents. A room is only as comfortable as the person makes it.

Doing the weekly or in-between laundry isn't so bad when a well equipped laundry is at your disposal anytime.

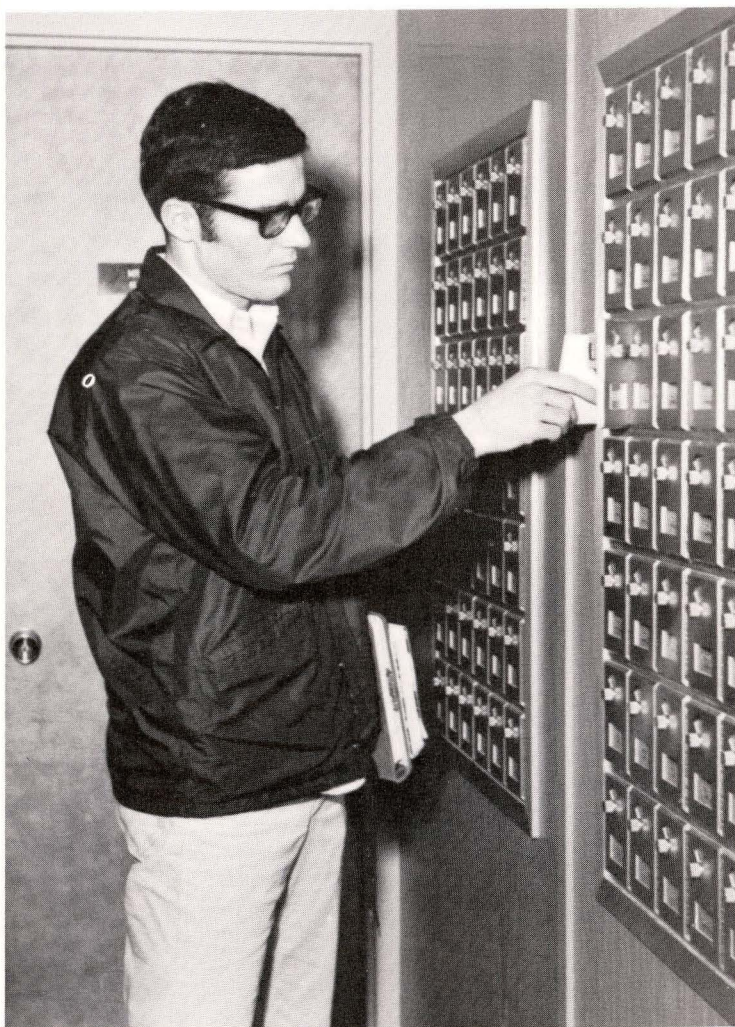

A comfortable and quiet study area is found in the dorm rooms. Students are also just a short walk from Delta's many-volumned library.

When you're away from home whether it's the first time or not, it's always a little lonely. And college students are usually pretty broke.

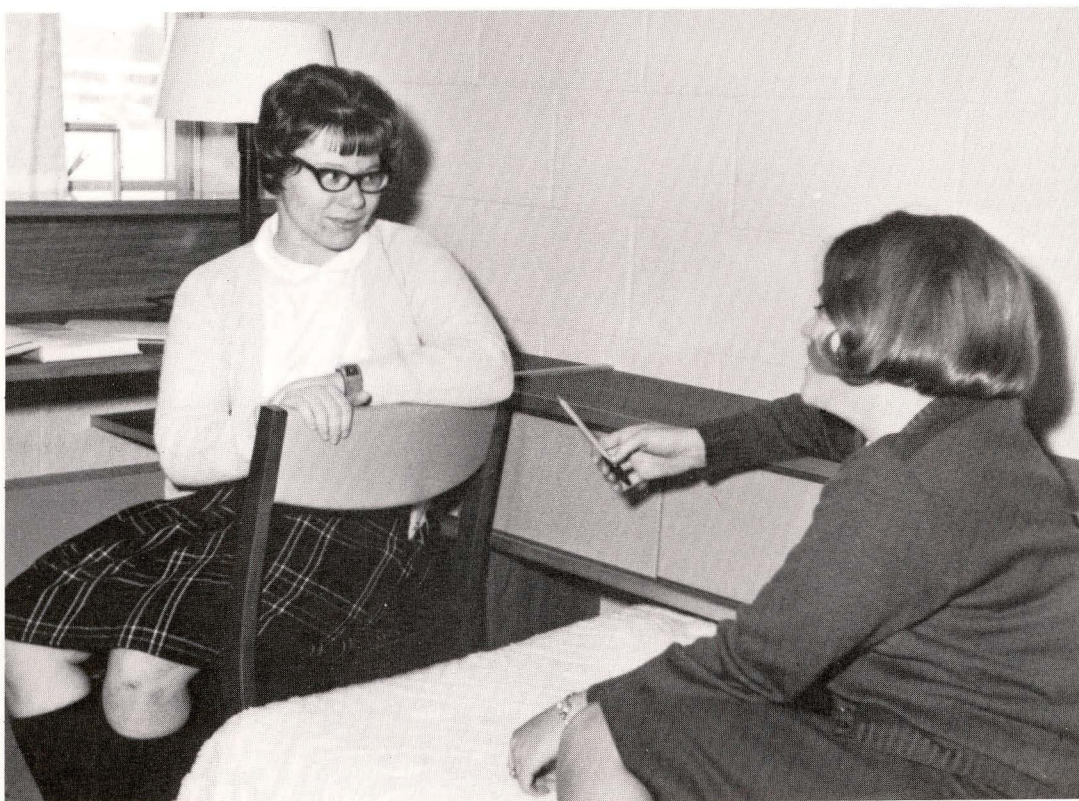

One advantage of living with a number of other college students is that you can usually find someone who's a brain when it comes to that problem class.

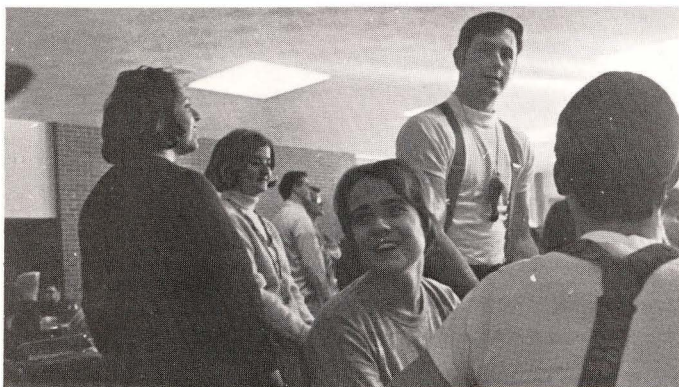

Learning to live with other people is sometimes one of the hardest parts of going to college. Everyone has to pitch in and do his part to get to know the shy girl or boy who lives next door. You have to be able to share a fairly small room for two people with someone who may have completely different habits of living. But somehow most people come out of the experience a better and more compatible person.

The student who's away from home welcomes mail, but so do the folks back home. They are anxious to hear from their sons and daughters away at school.

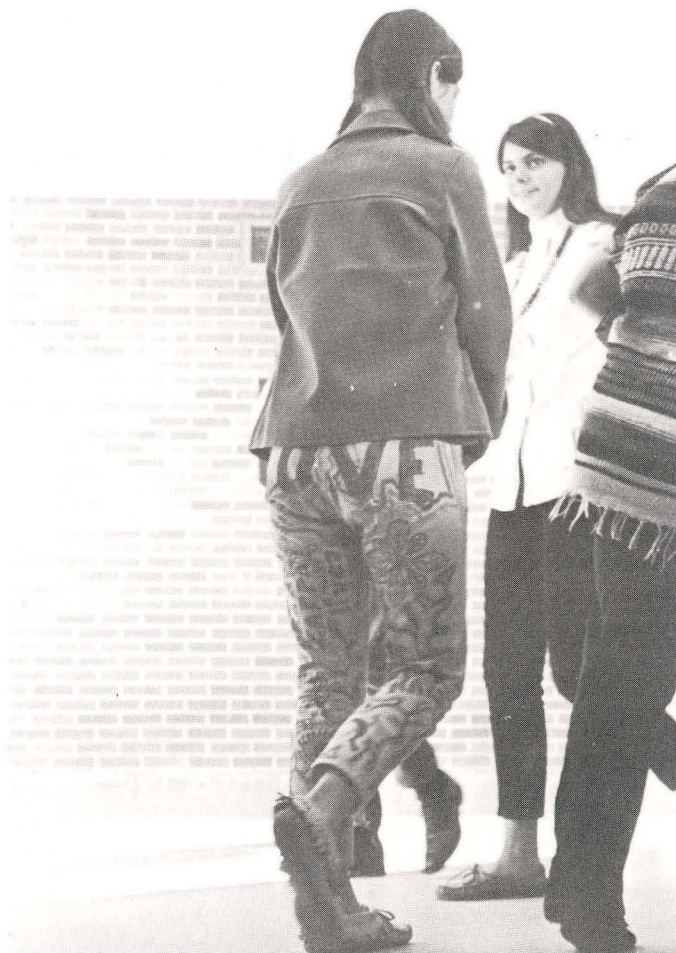

The dorm students come from many different towns and each has something special about it. It's interesting to hear about the other kids' home town.

The beat of the band is enjoyed by the students.

"Verrry Interesting" was the only comment that suited the day.

Mod and wild outfits were perfect attire for Dress-down Day.

Dress-Down Day

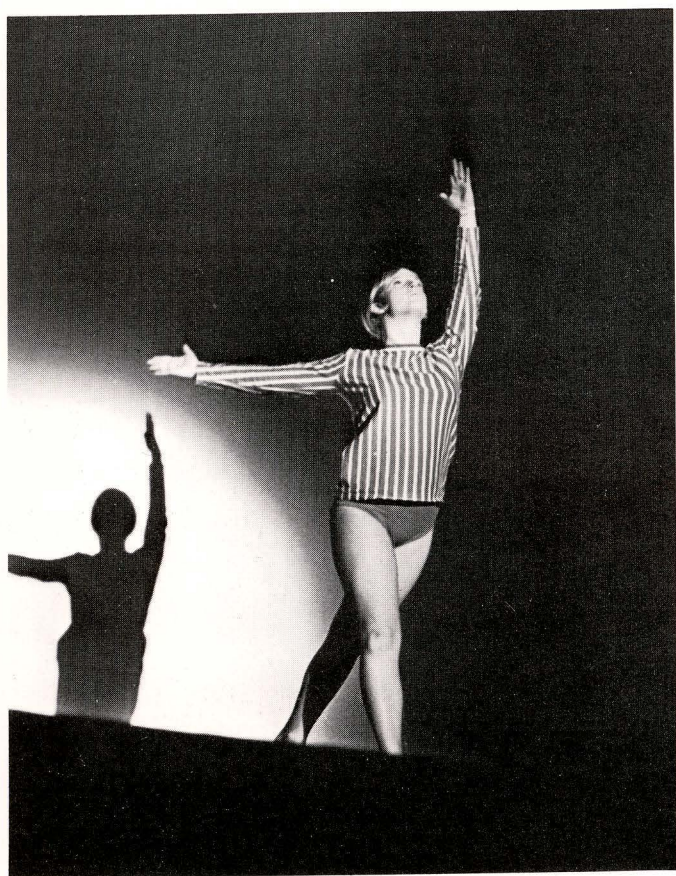

College Council sponsors Dress-down Day every year. The day ends with a dance in the Commons where prizes for the best costumes are presented.

The Commons was the scene for the Dress Down Day Dance. A live band performed on the raised steps of Commons as the weird and bazaar clothed audience danced.

Pazazz

Modern dances, singing, and baton twirling are all features of Pazazz. Pazazz is supported by the student body. It is a program for the students presented by amateur student entertainers.

The art of baton twirling is mastered only through practice.

Poise, posture, and practice are all part of a dance routine.

Modern dance is the result of creative minds and rhythmic bodies.

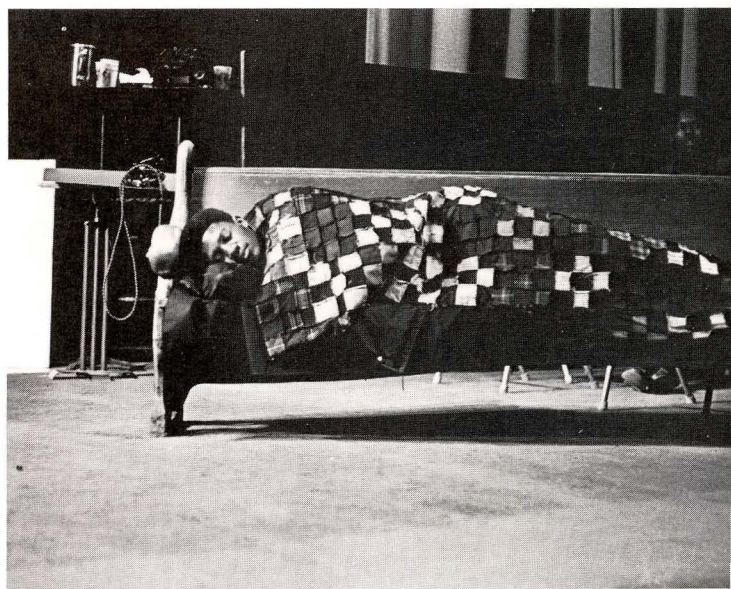

Ruth and Mama discuss the money received from the insurance.

Raisin in the Sun

The Delta College Players' Production of 'Raisin in the Sun' was a definite success. The play was presented in Delta's Lecture Theatre and ran for three nights.

The play is a study about one of the matriarchal societies that existed in the U.S. after W.W. II. It is the story of a family trying to regain their manhood in the eyes of society.

The excellent performance was recognized by the audience and they showed it by a standing ovation.

Queen Nancy is escorted to her throne by Terry Rock and Joe Wyatt.

Millage Campaign Successful

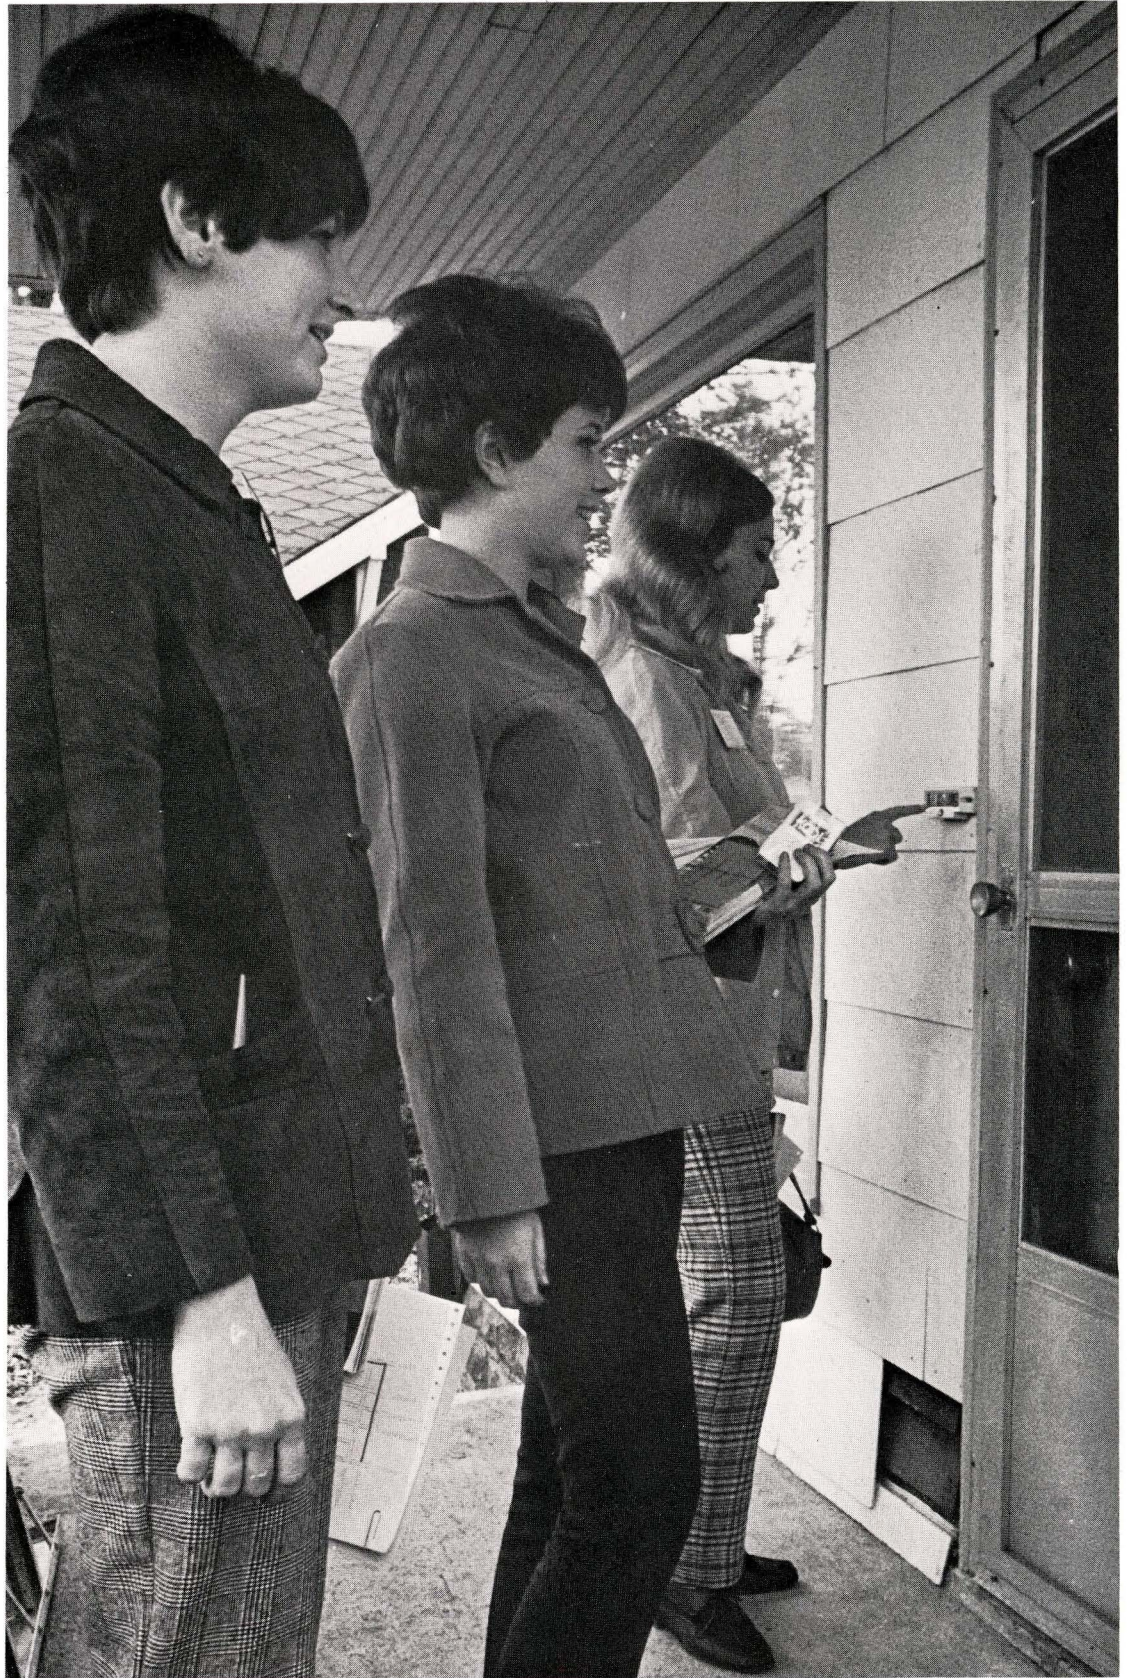

Delta Wins 1.5 Authorization

Delta College students got behind their school and helped to make the general public familiar with the issue which they would be called upon to vote for or against on election day. Students addressed thousands of envelopes and prepared them for the mail carrying vital information for the voter. A door to door campaign was then conducted by students who called on the voters personally and explained to them in plain facts the needs of Delta College and the results of the authorization if voted in and exactly what it would mean to the individual citizen.

Cheerleaders

Delta College's cheerleaders are perhaps the unsung heroes of the athletic competitors. Fans are usually pretty much fair-weather friends, but the cheerleading squad stays with the team whether they win or lose. If the season is good, they praise and support the teams. If the season is bad, they encourage and support the team. Cheerleaders can't miss a game. No matter what, they are at the games with their team.

Basketball players don't look out for cheerleaders on a rebound or in a scramble for the ball. The girls almost have to have eyes in the backs of their heads.

The squad has to be aware of what is happening in the game every minute.

Precision and beat are important to the presentation the squad gives. Practice helps to make perfect.

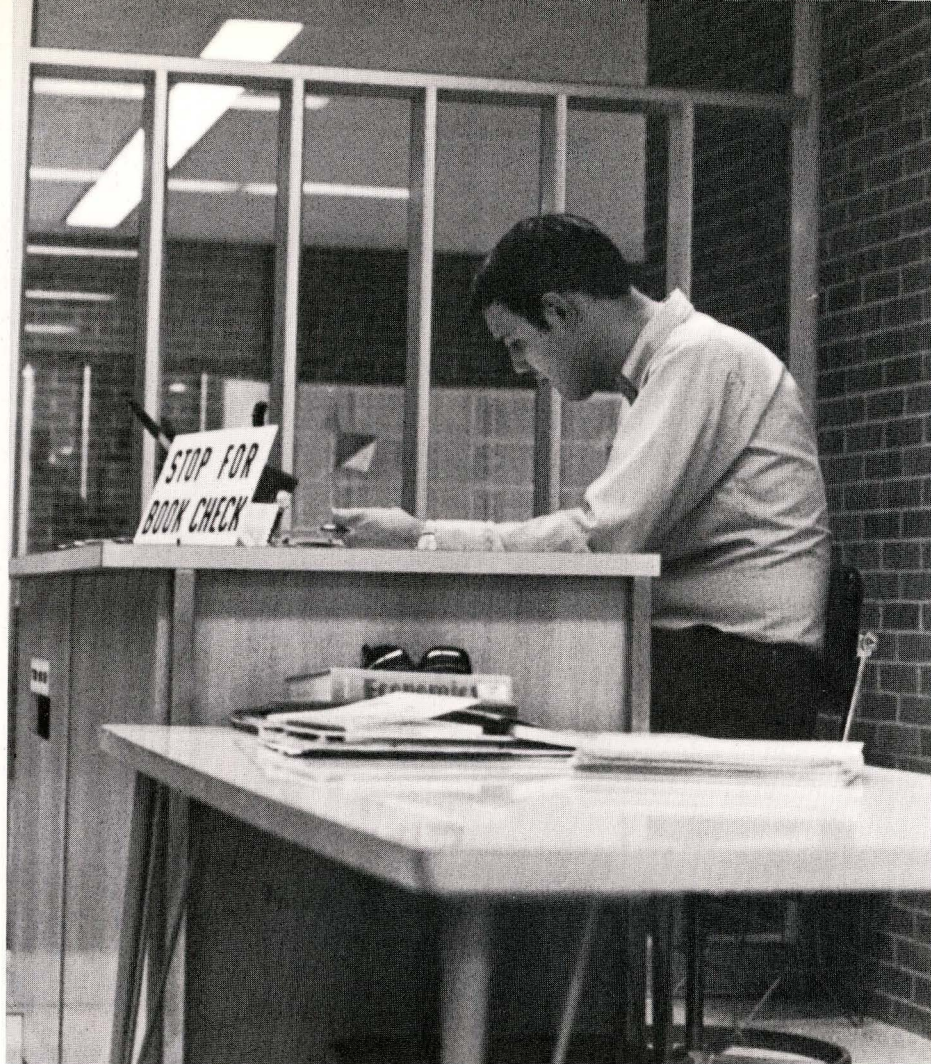

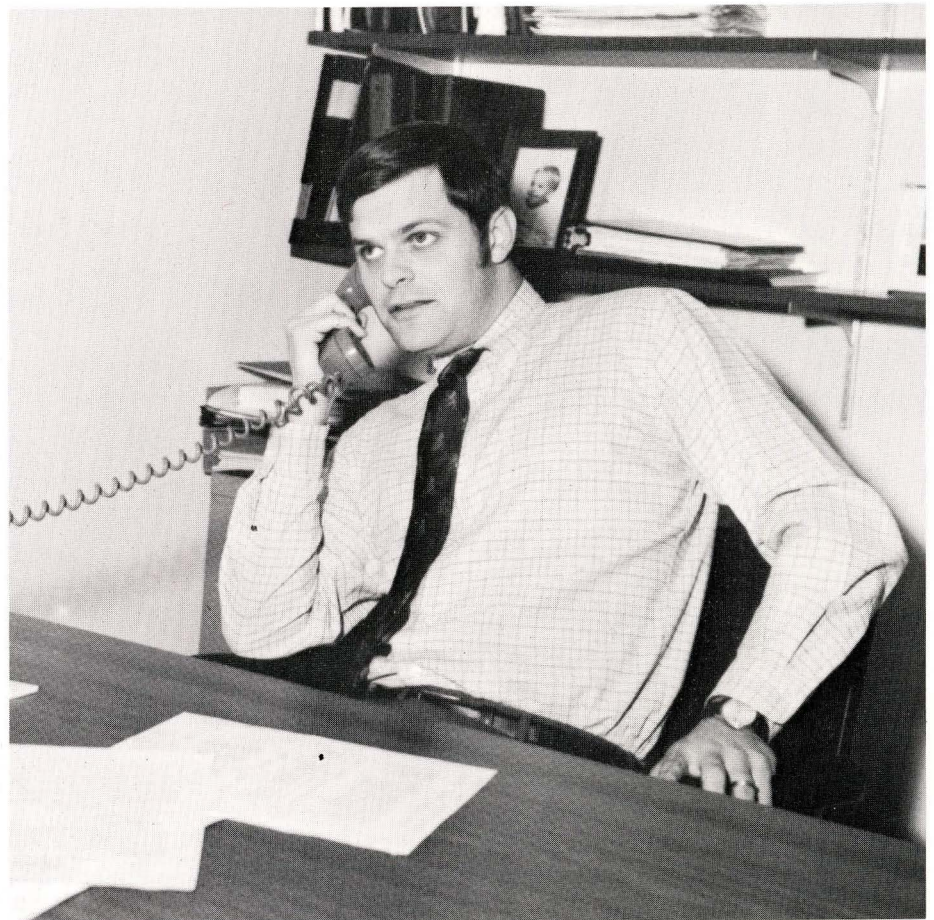

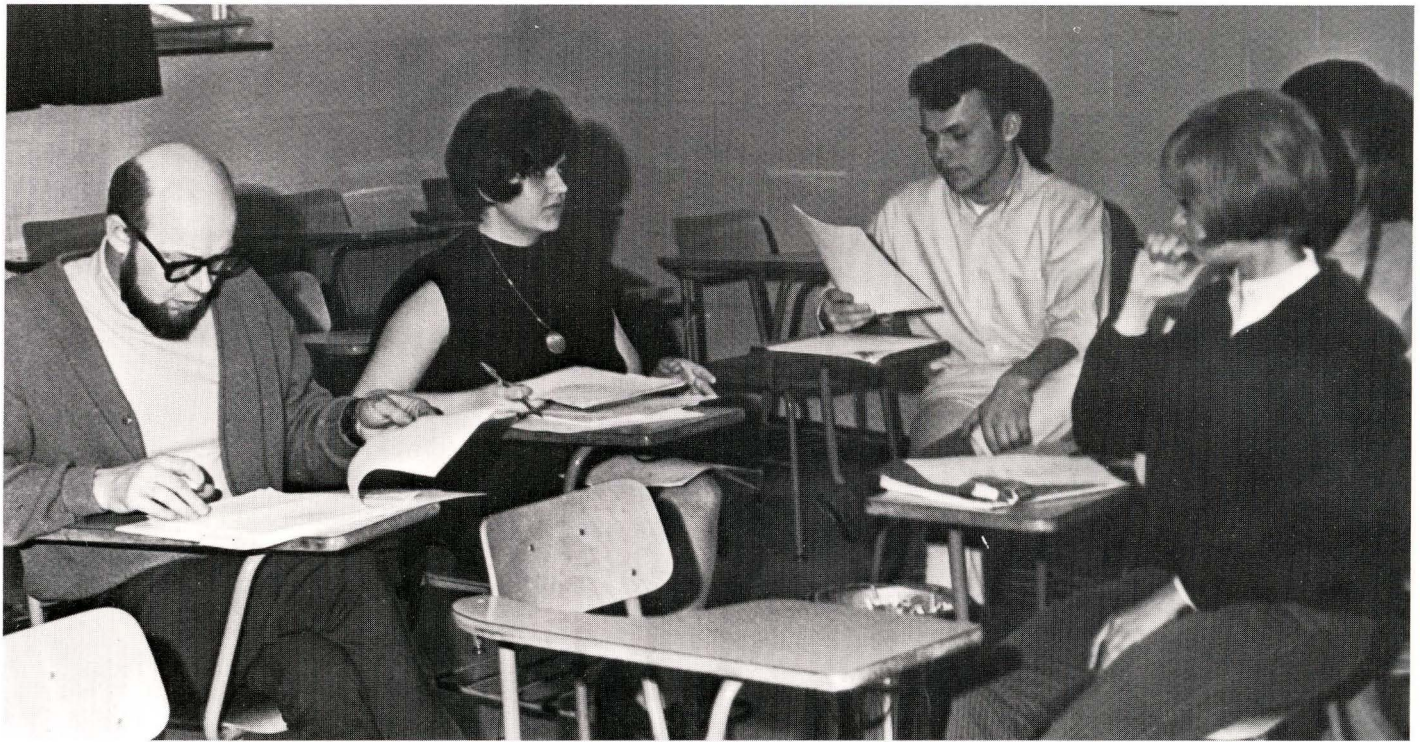

And strong hands.

Cheerleaders have to have good strong voices.

Community Affairs

Community Affairs is responsible for just what its name implies; the community. Delta College offers a variety of programs to educate the community in every imaginable area of learning. Delta College is also involved in many events which occur in the community and all of these must be kept track of.

Research and Development

Research and Development is responsible for the implementation of new programs and the development of those programs. Student and public response to these programs must also be noted and results interpreted.

Business Department

Every large organization must be run in as efficient a manner as possible. The responsibility of Delta College's Business Department falls on the shoulders of young aggressive Mike Crovella who heads a staff of six very competent people who manage the various business affairs of the college.

Mr. Crovella also serves as the secretary for the Board of Trustees at Delta.

English Division

Stimulating thinking and helping students to improve their reading and writing is accomplished by the English freshman classes. As students begin to elect the kind of English classes they want to study, they are helped to develop their interest in various kinds of literature and writing methods and also the pure enjoyment of reading good literature. English instructors also help students to each define their own standards when judging literature.

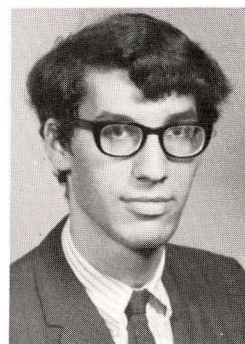

Only a good command of the English language is accepted when delivering a speech or debating. Man must be able to communicate accurately with one another.

Science Division

The aim of the Science Division is to help students better understand the workings of the natural world around them. Classroom lectures are supplemented by weekly sessions in the labs. Field trips also help to make the subject come alive for the student.

Lecture classes with the instructor make available to the student the basic knowledge he will later use in lab.

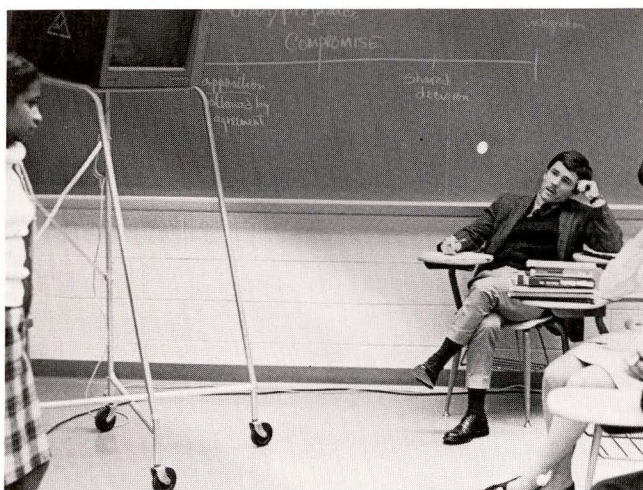

Delta's science laboratories are sully equipped with all the necessities for complete lab projects.

Oral class reports give the entire class a chance to come into contact with a great deal of outside reading material. It also helps students gain poise and confidence.

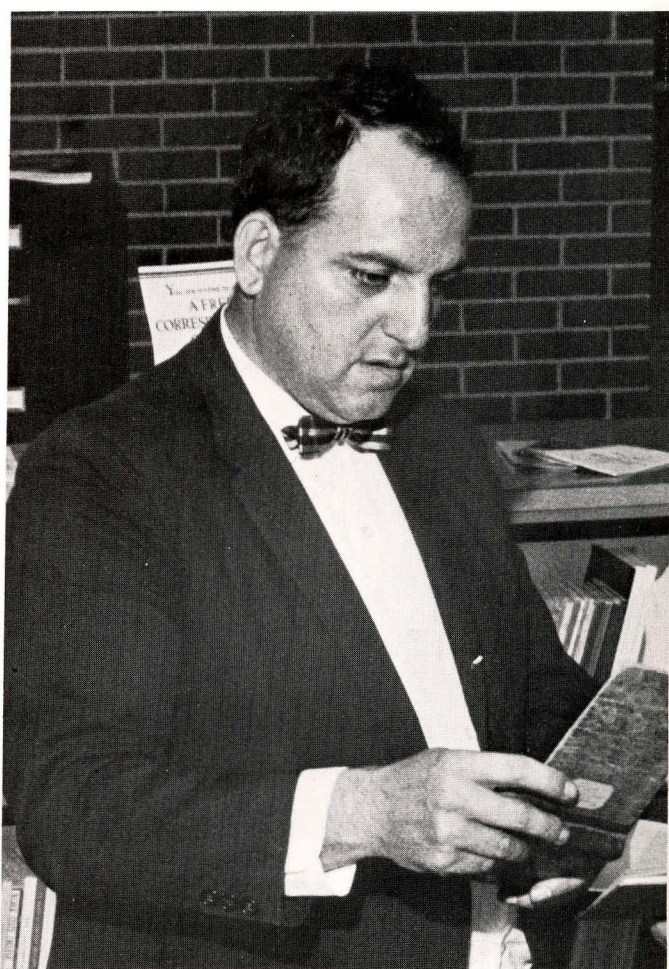

Humanities Division

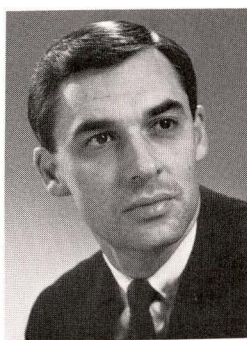

The Humanities Division tries to make students aware of the cultural background of peoples. It is hoped by the members of the Humanities Division faculty that this knowledge will help students lead a more full and meaningful life.

Class discussions are often student directed.

Athletics

... every muscle in your body aches
... you feel like you can go no farther
... winning is tops in your mind right now
... arms and legs strain and pull

Whichever sport the athlete participates in, he gives his all until he feels he is going to break, but he spies the finish line or sinks a basket or scores a goal.

Soccer

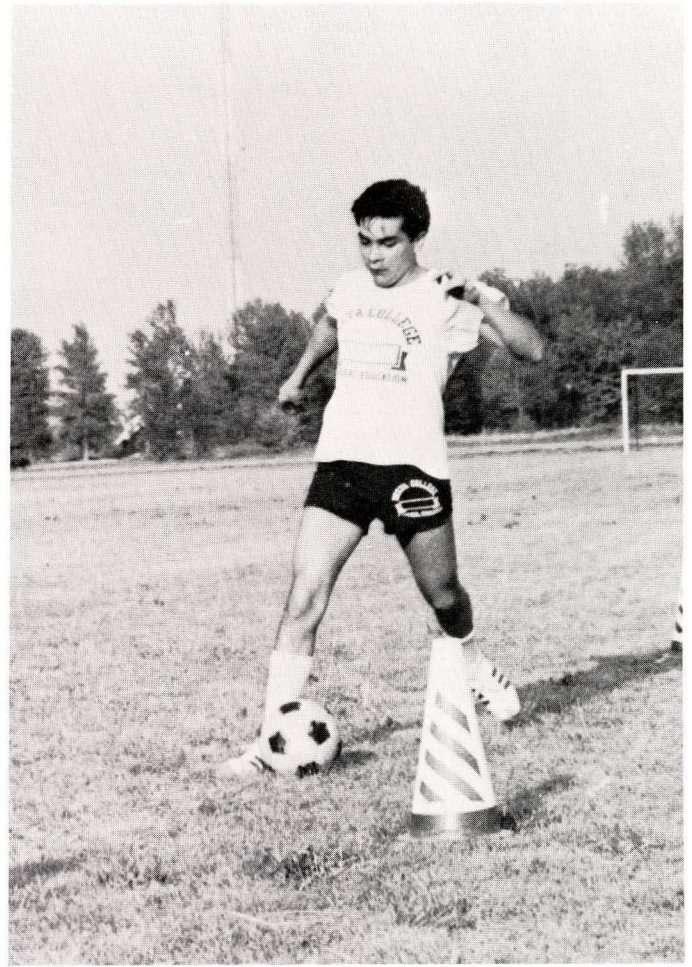

The 1968 Delta soccer team finished a fine season with an overall record of 3 wins, 3 losses, and 3 ties, and a league record of 3 wins, no losses, and 2 ties. Delta and Schoolcraft were Co-champions for the Michigan Community Junior College Athletic Conference. The leading scorers were Mel Mellor and Hernando Quintero. Delta's Chris Arrowsmith, Rich Wendling, and Gabe Nagy were selected as members of the 1968 All Star Team. The 1969 team looks promising, with 12 freshman lettermen returning.

A Delta player struggles with a member of the Oakland team for control of the ball.

Hernando Quinterio, the Pioneer's second leading scorer, chases the ball near the out-of-bounds markers.

Footwork is very important as shown in this picture. One wrong move could result in the loss of the ball and an all-important goal. One goal can mean the game, as Delta's perfect record was spoiled by two ties.

In this game against Macomb, the goalie guards against a possible score. A good goalie makes a good team, as he fills a very important role.

"Now if he'd just kick it my way", seems to be the expression on this soccer player's face. The skill of playing soccer can be learned only through experience and the teams played harder and better as the season progressed.

Soccer is a rough game, as shown here. When two opposing players scramble for the ball, nothing is spared in an attempt to score. As scores are very low, control of the ball plays an important part in the game.

Cross Country

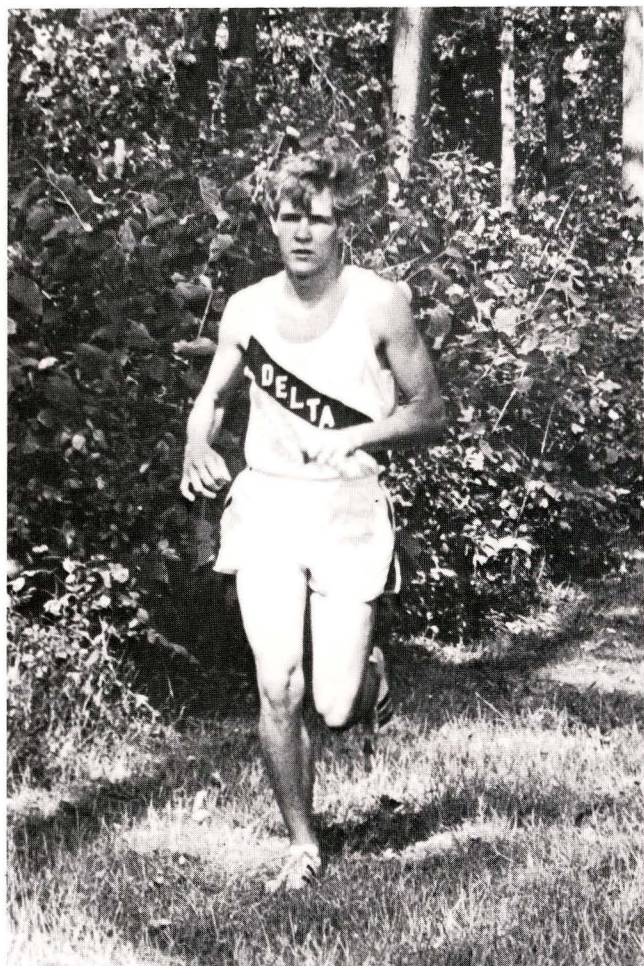

A practice session finds the harriers running hard in hopes of capturing the regional crown.

Delta's harriers finished fourth in the regional cross country meet in Lorain on November 9th. This season was the finest in Delta's history with the Pioneers compiling their best record ever. All of Delta's harriers will be eligible to run next season.

Bill Dekett emerges from the woods with a substantial lead on his opponents.

Walt Kemerer heads for the finish line.

Coach Prentice models a new pair of sweat socks.

Fella's if you think football is a rough sport the girls' field hockey team dares you to take up sticks against them!

Members of Delta's field hockey team express their happiness after a hard fought and well earned goal.

As the second 25 minute half begins we find our team waiting for the starters signal.

Delta's fine cheerleading can be seen at any home basketball game this term or at any other major sports event this year. A little student support would help the cause, however, as it is had to lead cheers with little help. This year's squad is one of the best Delta has ever seen.

Delta's cheerleaders for the 1968-69 season are clockwise from the left JoAnne Wilcox, Susie Davidson, Chris Hayward, Kathy Martin, Sue Miner, Sue Wenglikowski, and Brenda Wackerle.

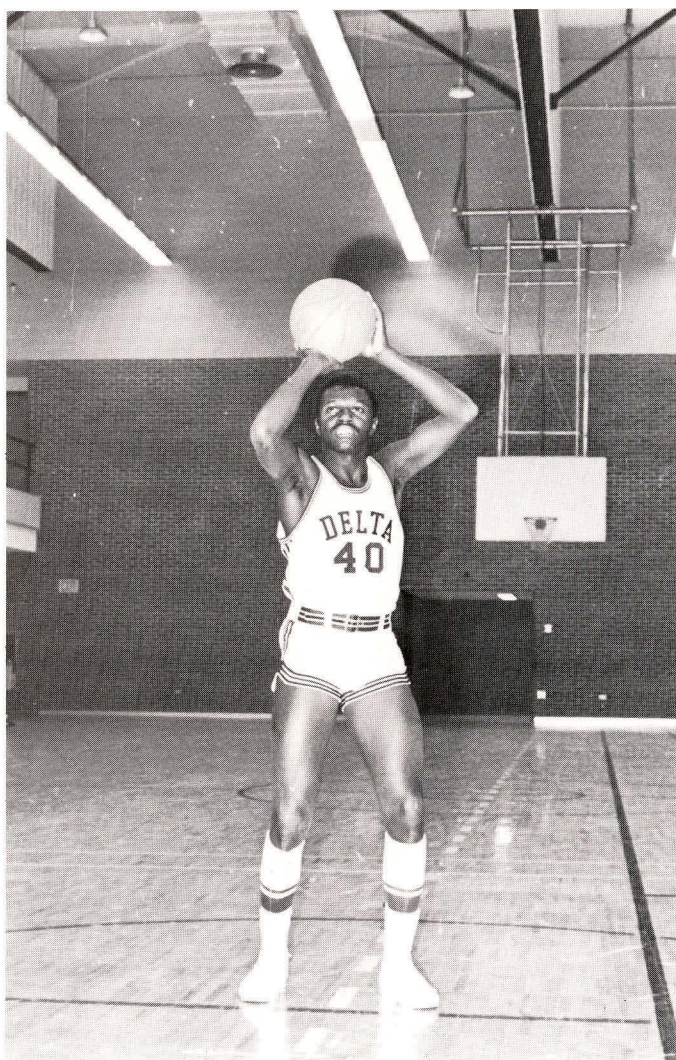

Pictured here are the 1968 Intramural Football champions. The team consists of: KNEELING, Tom Bridgewater, STANDING, Thomas Harris, Paul Bowman, Carlton Flakes, James Sanders, and BACK ROW, Raymond Presley, and Preston Snow. They won the title in the Chilly Bowl, which was a play-off of the winners of the 1:00 and 2:00 leagues.

Here a member of the Soulfuls, the champions, scrambles in an attempt to find an open receiver.

An unsuccessful attempt is made to block a pass intended for a downfield receiver. The intramural games were mainly a passing contest, so the ability to keep close coverage and to stage a quick rush were very important.

Delta's fine basketball team received little praise or support for the fine job they did this season. The crowds at the games were little help for our team. Maybe if the students showed a little support for their team they would perhaps find an extra spark to push them on. At least they would have something to fight for.

A Delta player attempts to steal the ball.

Coach Conway is shown here planning the strategy for the second half. He stresses the opposing team's weaknesses and shows how to avoid their strong points.

A Delta player in the open goes up for what proves to be an easy lay-up.

The varsity locker room is a lonely place after a loss and solace is found in the quiet.

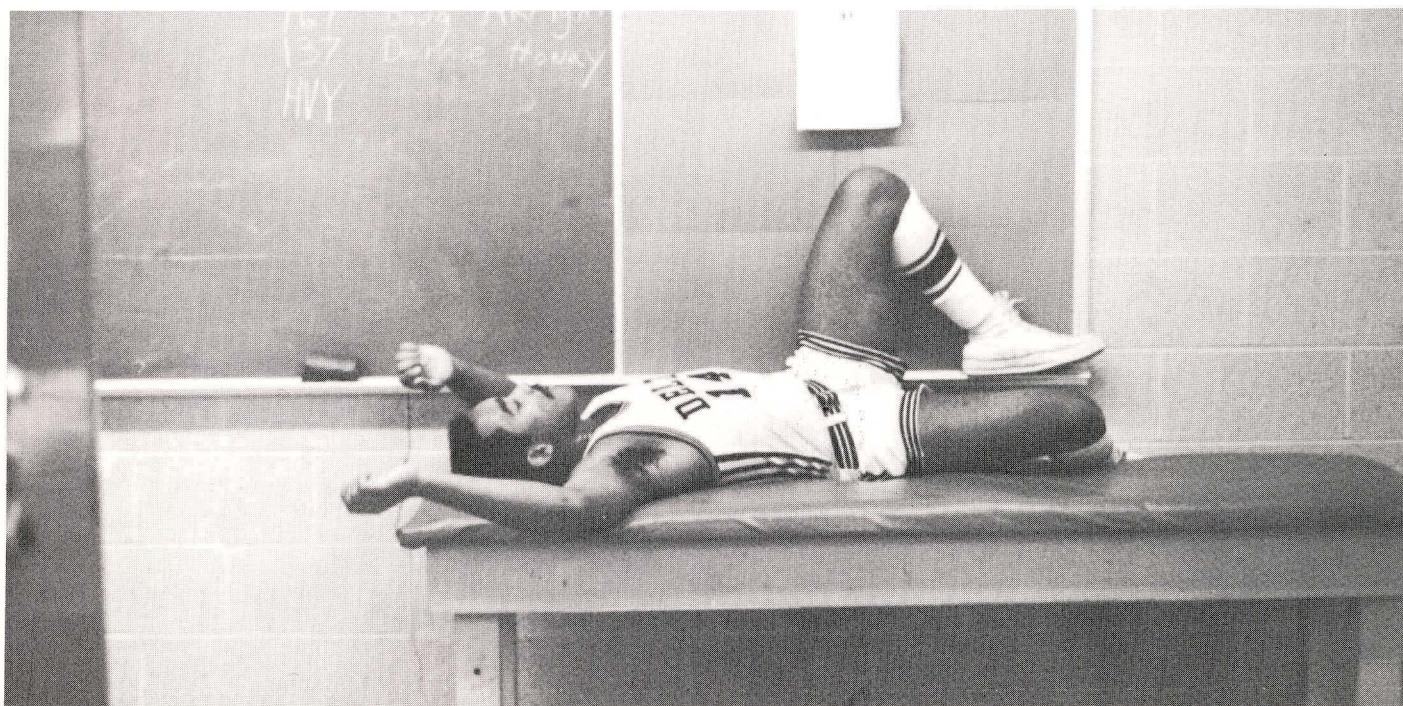

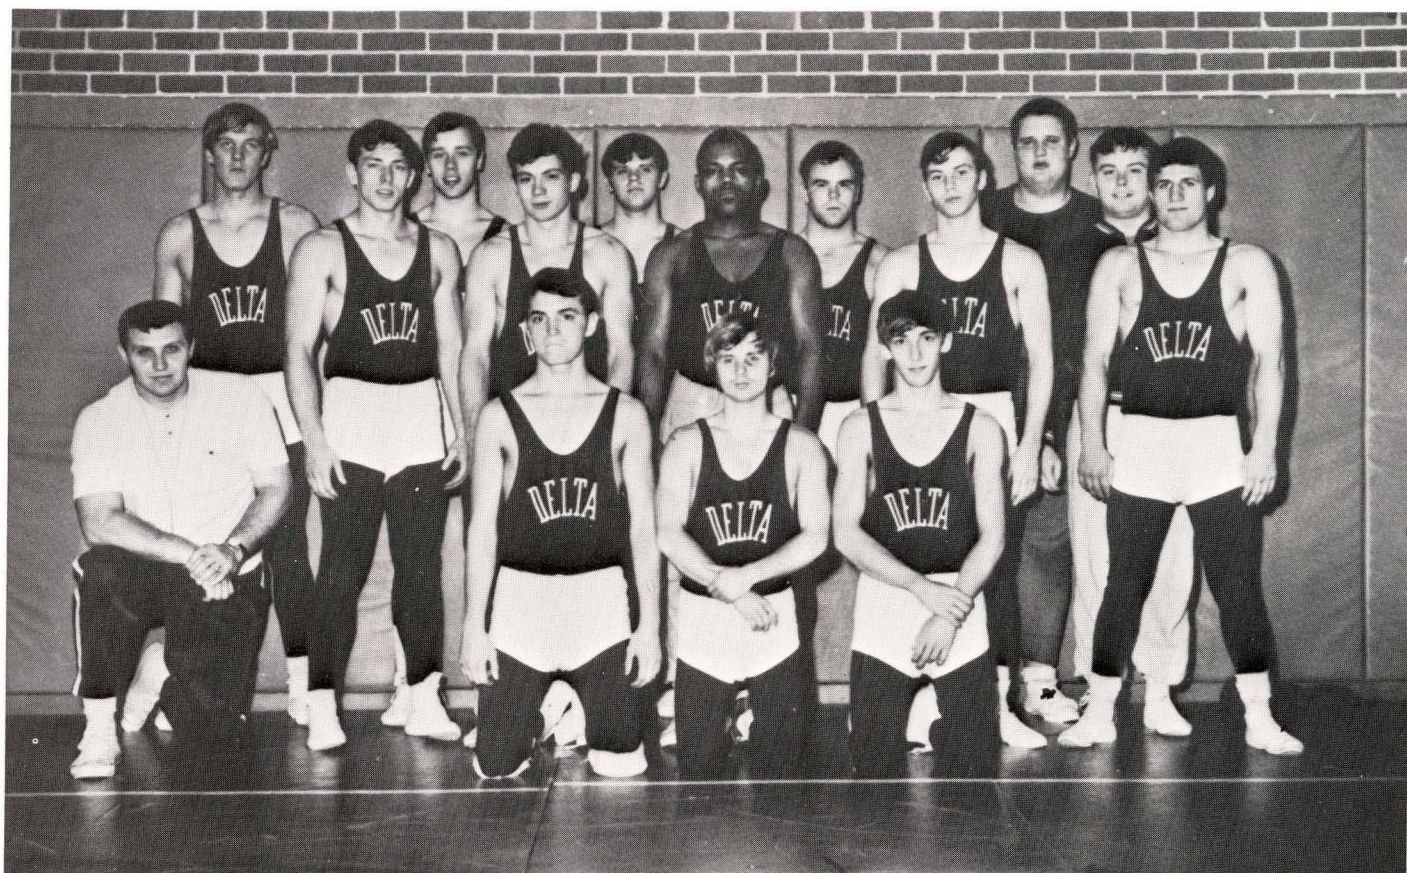

Jim Grant leaps for a shot as an opposing player attempts to block his shot.

Bill Heyse goes up for a lay-up shot with a pursuing player close behind him.

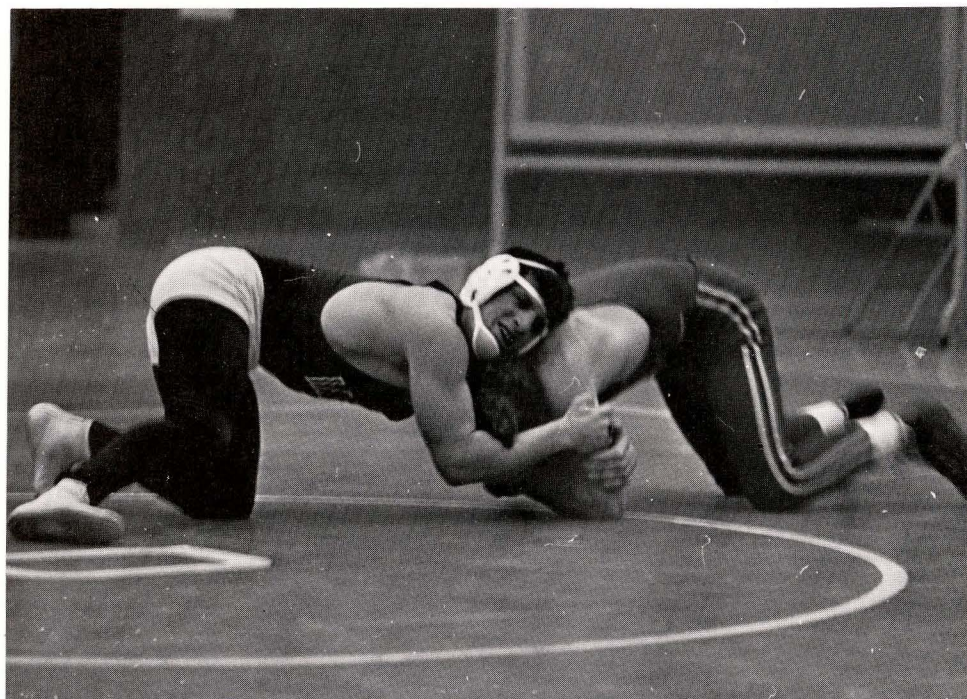

Phil Moore takes a well deserved rest after a hard played game. The soft table feels good after the long struggle to overcome a mighty opponent.

A successful take-down is shown here as Sam maneuvers his opponent into a vulnerable position.

Cathy Reder, a Delta student, worked afternoons in the Audio-Visual section of Dow's Communications Department in Midland. Here she checks out recording equipment to a Dow customer.

The Dow Chemical Company has many fine educational experiences with Delta College in adult education and in the co-op program.

During the past school year, 12 Delta students participated in the secretarial co-op program while 10 students worked in Data Processing or Technical Service & Development departments.

We are pleased with the many valuable associations we have had with Delta students in the past and trust that our fine relationship will continue.

AN ACCENT ON YOUTH

This is fast becoming a nation of young people. In fact, very shortly half the population of the United States will be under twenty-five.

At Dow Corning, as with many other corporations across the country, the younger generation is playing an important role in the company's activities.

Why? Because there's a lot of truth in that old saying about there being no substitute for experience, and that's exactly what the young people are getting today so that they may grow, develop and mature into the responsible leaders we will be looking to for guidance in the years to come.

Work-study programs are one way that young people are getting that experience. At Dow Corning, co-op students have jobs in laboratories, production, engineering and offices.

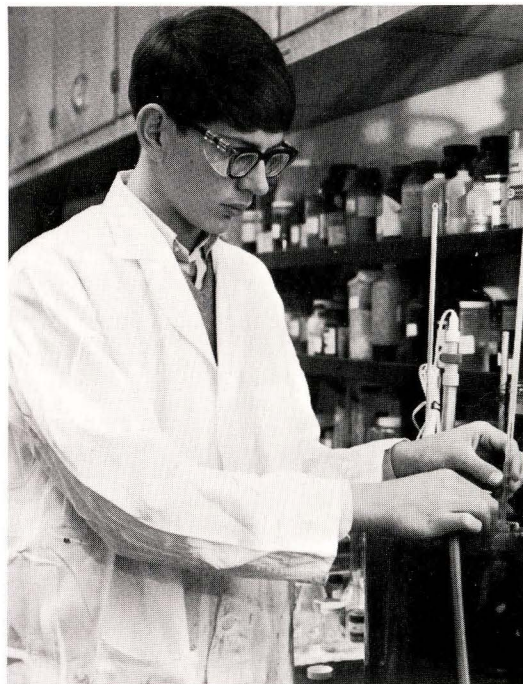

Here are a few of these young people at work.

TO THE READERS OF THE 1969 GNOSIS:

Planning for the 1969 Gnosis began in April of '68. Our adviser, Mrs. Pauline Drumm and I met with the representatives of several publishing companies to find the one we felt could do the best job in helping us to present a true and interesting picture of Delta College. A decision was made to award the contract to American Yearbook Company, after many consultations with Dean Kern and other administrators.

Our company representative, Mr. Ray Figg met with us every three weeks through the summer to begin the planning stages of the Gnosis. In September, we began a campaign to recruit staffers. Quite a few turned out and we began production with high hopes. As time went on the staff dwindled, as staffs often do, because the work is completely voluntary. We are most grateful to those who did stay with us to the end.

The pictures to take seemed endless, and they were right up to the final deadline night. Many people cooperated completely and were more than happy to help in any way they could, but as usual there were those who didn't have time or didn't want to be bothered.

The 1969 Gnosis went to press in January, during Homecoming Weekend. As editor, I want to thank the Managing Editor Mike McCauley, Sports Editor Darryl Szczepanski, Activities Editor Debbie Shank, Album Editor Yvonne Ittner, Randy LaFond, Marianne Burke, and all the other members of the staff who gave their time. It was a pleasure to edit this book because I feel the steps we took forward will help the Gnosis to become something the students look for each year.

I would also like to thank Mr. Figg for all the visits he made.

Kristine Meyer
1969 Gnosis Editor.
